SALEM MAN KILLED AT NEWGARDEN CROSSING

HICKMAN HELD SANE, AWAITS HIS SENTENCE

Jury, Out Less Than 40 Minutes, Declares
Kidnap-Slayer Sane; Judge Will Sentence Youth Saturday

Los Angeles, Cal. Feb. 10.—While the specter of the gallows hovered over the head of William Edward Hickman, awaiting sentence for the kidnaping and killing of 12-year-old Marion Parker, a new fight for his life was launched by his attorneys today.

Declared by a jury of four women and eight men to have been sane when he stole and slew the little school girl, Hickman's only hope of escape from the noose lies in the appeal which Jerome Walsh, his attorney, announced he would make from Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco's expected sentence.

Hear Sentence Tomorrow
The remorseless youth who battered the mutilated body of his little victim for $1,500 ransom, will be brought before Judge Trabucco tomorrow morning to hear sentence imposed. His sentence will be either death on the scaffold or life imprisonment, depending upon Judge Trabucco's determination of his degree of guilt.

Walsh has announced that he will move for a new trial when Hickman is arraigned for sentence. This motion is expected to pave the way for an appeal from the conviction implied by the jury's swift verdict that the Kansas City youth was sane at the time he kidnaped the Parker girl and sane at the time he killed her.

Hickman's attorneys cloistered themselves in their office today, coordinating argument for an appeal to the California supreme court.

While they did not specify on what grounds the appeal would be based, it was said that the customary routine of objections, errors of the trial judge and the failure of the jury to properly instruct the jury would form the argumentative groundwork with the possibility that the constitutionality of the law under which Hickman was convicted would be attacked.

During the trial both Walsh and his associate, Richard Canillon of Los Angeles, entered numerous objections. Each of these, it was said, would find its way into the appeal.

DUCHESS SEEKS PLACE TO REST

Alleged Czar's Daughter Wants Seclusion And Shuns Society

New York, Feb. 10.—Madame Anastasia Tchaikovsky, who claims to be Grand Duchess Anastasia, Russia, youngest daughter of the former czar, merely came to the United States for rest and quiet and to get away from the nervous political atmosphere of Europe, Gleb Botkin, her sponsor, announced today.

Mme. Tchaikovsky came upon the invitation of a distant relative, by marriage, Mrs. William B. Leeds, and will be Mrs. Leeds' guest although Mrs. Leeds is absent from New York at the present time upon a southern cruise.

Botkin, who is himself a Russian, denied that Mme. Anastasia came to seek recognition of her family status or that she desired to make a place for herself in New York society. He said she would live in seclusion and shun society.

"She seeks neither sympathy nor publicity," said Botkin. "All she wants is to be left alone for a while so she can try to forget."
Botkin's father was former physician to the Russian Imperial family. He was executed with other members of the Imperial family by Soviet soldiers at Ekaterinburg, Siberia. Botkin in speaking of Mme. Tchaikovsky called the young woman "her highness."

London, Feb. 10.—A majority of residents of the Russian colony in London doubt the claim of Madame Anastasia Tchaikovsky, now in the United States, that she is Grand Duchess Anastasia, the youngest daughter of the former Czar of Russia, according to Prince George of Russia.

"I myself do not believe that the czar's daughter is alive," Prince George said today. "I think the whole family were killed in the Ekaterinburg massacre."

Among the most prominent workers were Marjorie Oelrichs, New York society lady; Dorothy Dalton, former stage and screen star, and Anita Loos, the authoress.

RULING ON HOME RAIDS SUSTAINS BENDER'S FIGHT

Appeals Court Declares
That Sanctity Of Home
Is Supreme

Cleveland, Feb. 10.—A "dry" raider has no authority to search a bona fide private residence even though he be armed with a search warrant and finds a quantity of liquor.

The Cuyahoga county court of appeals today had gone on record to this effect in a unanimous decision handed down here late Thursday, in connection with the suit of State Senator George H. Bender, who started action against State Probation Inspector W. J. Patrick and others, after his home had been raided. No liquor was found and Bender won a $25,000 judgment.

The appellate court decision, written by Judge Willis Vickery and concurred in by Judges J. J. Sullivan and Manuel Levine, is sustained by the Ohio supreme court, promises to be second only in importance in the state's prohibition history, to the defeat of the Marshall justice of the peace bill and the Taft decision on justice of the peace fee-splitting.

Bender Is Happy
The ruling is taken by many "wets" to mean, in effect, that a man may keep a small quantity of liquor in his bona fide residence, regardless of where or how he obtained it, give it to his friends and still be immune from prosecution and if he is arrested and the raider has no evidence that he trafficked in liquor, the raider or raiders may be used in civil court as trespassers.

Senator Bender today was enthusiastic.

"That's a real victory for the wet and lengthy fight I've been waging," Bender declared. "I'm unable to express my gratitude that one of the state's highest courts believes that a man's home is really his castle."

George C. Southwell, Cuyahoga County Dry Maintenance league secretary, expressed the opinion that the decision would not get the approval of the state supreme court.

The appellate court ruling will not involve the activities of federal prohibition agents. It was pointed out, as those agents are not accountable to state courts. Neither is it expected to effect materially activities of the local police department as the police policy, as a rule, has been to raid private residences only upon receiving positive evidence of liquor trafficking.

Hoop Skirt Versus Short Skirt Topic Of Women's Debate

Salem grange had a meeting Thursday evening at the hall, Depot rd. which was well attended.

The program at the lecture hour consisted of reminiscences of Lincoln. Each member responded to his name on roll call by telling an anecdote or saying of Lincoln. Virginia Glass read an essay, "Life of Lincoln," and Mrs. Raymond Myers gave a reading.

At a meeting in two weeks the women will debate the question, "Resolved, That the hoop skirts were better than the present short skirts."

It was announced that Pomona grange will be held at West Point grange hall, Feb. 18, instead of Midway grange hall, as first planned.

Oil Plant Explodes, Damage $1,000,000

Roar Is Heard for Miles;
Six Employees Narrowly
Escape

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 10.—One man was perhaps fatally injured and damage of almost $1,000,000 resulted at Long Beach early today when the Signal Gasoline company's refining plant exploded with a terrific roar which rocked the surrounding country for miles around.

Ray Thompson, 22, of Bellflower, an engineer in the refining plant, is expected to die as the result of burns and injuries received when he was hurled through the building. Four oil wells valued at more than $400,000 were destroyed and five others were damaged by the fire which followed the explosion.

The fire covered an entire city block and required all of the Signal Hill and Long Beach fire apparatus to keep it from wiping out the entire Los Cerritos oil field.

Six Narrowly Escape
Fire department officials and J. P. O'Donnell, owner of the destroyed refining plant, were unable to determine the cause of the explosion. The explosion occurred at 3:42 o'clock this morning. It was preceded by an explosion of less violence.

Six employees of the plant escaped death when they went to breakfast a few minutes before the scheduled breakfast hour. Had they been out of the plant they would have been killed. The men were believed to have perished when a quick check of the plant personnel was made.

Youngstown, Feb. 10.—Till a writ of mandamus might be asked by a local radio station to compel members of the "American League for enforcement of the radio act," to listen to their sets, was the startling report William Gray, president of the "league" said he had received here today as the radio "strike" called for February 10 was inaugurated.

Gray expressed his belief that no court would grant such a request if one was made. The congested radio channels would make such a writ "crucial and unusual," he declared.

The league has called a "strike" of radio "listeners" until half of the stations now broadcasting have been eliminated for "public interest, necessity and convenience," Gray concluded.

SHORTER LENGEL TRIAL EXPECTED

Defense Attorneys Would Dispense With Jury's
Visiting Scene

Lisbon, Feb. 10.—The second trial of S. A. Lengel, ex-police chief of Canton, for alleged complicity in the Don B. Mellett murder plot at Canton, will be much shorter than the first trial in Canton. It was indicated here today.

Defense attorneys are seeking an agreement with the prosecution to dispense with the jury visiting the murder scene at Canton, and Judge Frank Long, who will preside, has indicated that court will be held on Saturdays in addition to other week-days to save time.

In his first trial Lengel was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment, but the seventh district court of appeals granted him a new trial.

It is expected that Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton detective, again will be the state's star witness against Lengel. It was through Streitenberger's confession, following his own conviction of complicity in the Mellett crime, that Lengel was indicted.

Gra Slater, Cincinnati detective, has informed Prosecutor Henry Harter of Stark county, that he will be present for the trial, which will be opened next Monday.

Black Letters On Green Background For Auto Licenses

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Announcement that Ohio auto license plates for next year will possess raised black letters and figures with a light, or sea, green background was made today by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown.

Prisoners at Ohio penitentiary are expected to begin making the 1928 tags within the next three weeks, it was stated. All of the 1,890,000 sets of plates are to be ready for delivery early next November.

FIGHT AGAINST THIRD TERM IS STIRRING FIRE

Compliment To Coolidge
In Resolution Brings
Fess To Feet

SAYS TRADITION
ISN'T CONSIDERED

Fess Reproached by Reed
For Being Unjust To Other Candidates

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Republican presidential pot was kept boiling in the senate today as a Democratic-Inurgent coalition fought for adoption of the LaFollette resolution, declaring in favor of the anti-third term tradition.

A vote was expected this afternoon on the resolution, which would place the senate on record as favoring a limit of eight years for any occupant of the White House. Its adoption was conceded although administration leaders sought to eliminate a section, paying a doubtful compliment to President Coolidge by commending him for observance of the tradition.

Fess' Statement
There was a possibility that this section might be eliminated if administration leaders endorsed the statement of Senator Fess (R) of Ohio, that the president did not have the third term tradition in mind when issuing his famous "I do not choose to run" statement in the Black Hills last summer.

Fess said the president, retired from the presidential race because the duties were burdensome, because he felt this was not a "one-man country" and because he felt there were many other good men to succeed him. "I don't believe the third term tradition ever entered his mind," Fess added.

"I included the commendation of President Coolidge's observance of the tradition," explained Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, "because I took his statement in good faith. If the president said he did not choose to run, without having the third term tradition in mind, there is no sense in paying him this compliment."

The resolution has provoked more discussion of Republican presidential politics in the senate than has been heard there in several decades.

Reed Reproaches Fess
Senator Reed (D) of Missouri, reproached Fess for being "unjust" to the Republicans whose names have been suggested as presidential possibilities. Reed said he protested against Fess' statements that Coolidge could be drafted and should accept the nomination if chosen, as an "injustice to your colleague (Willie) to our great Republican leader here (Curtis) to be the great dirt farmer, (Lewellen), and to that great English statesman, (Hoover)."

There likewise was considerable gossip over an intimation that President Coolidge might become a candidate in 1932 after being out of the White House for four years. The Bingham (R) of Connecticut, who intimated was given by Senator declared the resolution was sponsored by Coolidge's political enemies "to prevent his re-election at any time in the near future, whether in 1928 or 1932."

LINDY IS GIVEN KEYS OF HAVANA

Highest Cuban Order To Be Conferred Upon
Young Aviator

Havana, Feb. 10.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today will add another medal to his collection when Gov. Ruiz of Havana Province, confers one upon him in the Department of State reception rooms.

Immediately after this ceremony, the young flyer who has captivated Cuba with his charm, will be presented with the keys of Havana by Mayor Miguel Mariano. This ceremony will take place in the Central park.

The peak of Col. Lindbergh's visit to Havana will come tonight when President Machado, at a banquet in the National theater, will bestow upon the flying colonel the Order of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the highest Cuban order.

Due to fatigue and the necessity of keeping fit for his long hop on Monday to St. Louis, Col. Lindbergh declined an invitation to the grand ball at the Tachi club last night and spent the evening at the American embassy with a few specially invited guests.

During the day, a busy one for the aviator, the enthusiasm and cordiality of the Cuban people for Col. Lindbergh was constantly demonstrated. Cheers greeted him wherever he went and thousands of persons grasped every opportunity to shake his hand.

Lindy Will Carry Air Mail On Old Route Feb. 20-21

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Chicago-St. Louis air mail February 20 and 21 will be heavy.

"Lindy" will be back at the stick in his old job as air mail pilot those two days.

"Lindbergh again flies the air mail" will be the cancellation mark on the letters the flying colonel's ship carries. The cancellation stamp will be horse-die shaped with the name and designation of the route in the arch of the shoe and the name of the particular post office on the route with the date of flight at the opening.

W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general, granted the wish of Lindbergh to fly his old route.

ANOTHER LARGE STRUCTURE FOR MULLINS PLANT

New shipping and storage
Building Will Adjoin
The Main Plant

President C. C. Gibson of the Mullins Manufacturing company today made public plans for the construction of a shipping and storage building to adjoin the No. 1 main plant on Depot st.

This is the second big addition of the plant so far this year, and indicates the great growth of the corporation which now operates three plants in Salem.

The shipping building will be 350 feet long, extending back to the power house. It will be 120 feet wide and will adjoin the three story main plant on the north. Plans call for the building to be two stories in height.

Increased shipping facilities provided by the new building upon which construction has already been started, will make it possible to handle ten cars a day. A new siding is being built into the property, the second siding into this plant.

Mayor Phil Hiddleston Thursday issued a building permit for $35,000 for the new building, which is to be of brick and steel construction.

The Mullins corporation is completing an addition to the main plant which will give additional room for production. This building it was estimated last December will cost between $125,000 and $150,000.

Robin Here, Defying Groundhog

Charges of error may be placed against Breer Groundhog by the Association of Amateur Weather Prophets as the result of the appearance of a robin in Salem.

The harbinger of spring appeared in the back yard of a home here, and a girl raced to the phone and called The News to tell of her find, the first of the year.

On Feb. 2 the groundhog is supposed to have fled back to the shelter of his burrow after seeing his shadow, anticipating that there would be six weeks more of winter. The weather prophets wonder whether he was kidding.

SCHOOL BANKING RECORD IS HELD BY SOPHOMORES

Room 109 of Salem High school, a Sophomore room of 30 pupils, has maintained a weekly rating of 100 per cent in the school banking system since the inauguration of the system Nov. 30, last. It was learned today.

Each student in the room has had a bank account since the opening day, and the total wealth of the room is now exactly $55.

The banner which was hung in the room at the end of the first week as emblematic of the best record for the week, has remained in this room for nine consecutive school weeks.

E. E. Branstetter is the teacher in charge of this room.

Public, Parochial Pupils Listen To Walter Damrosch

A radio was installed Friday morning at the parochial school by Rev. A. J. Manning in order that the pupils might hear the children's concert broadcast at 10 a. m. by Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony orchestra.

This was one of a series of "sample" broadcasts to demonstrate Mr. Damrosch's ideas of musical education by radio. The program was especially arranged for children and Mr. Damrosch gave explanations of the compositions, their history and general notes and told about the different musical instruments.

Through the courtesy of the radio dealers of Salem the pupils of the other public schools also were privileged to hear this program.

JOSEPH BINDER STRUCK BY FAST NIGHT EXPRESS

Gates Down When Binder

It Is Claimed

WITNESS GIVES HIS STATEMENT

Victim Survived By Son
In Salem, Widow Who Lives In Germany

Joseph Binder, 63, of 450 Arch st., was killed instantly by the Manhattan Limited of the Pennsylvania lines when he stepped in front of the express at the Newgarden st. crossing at 9:06 p. m. Thursday.

Coroner J. M. VanFossan, East Palestine, following an inquest today, gave a verdict of "accidentally killed."

Agent W. M. Sloan of the Pennsylvania company here said that the gates were down on the crossing when Binder stooped under the gate and walked out onto the track.

The fast eastbound limited, No. 22, struck the man as he stepped onto the track, and the force of the impact carried the body about 40 feet from the crossing.

Engine men in charge of the express stopped the train, but found the man had been crushed so badly he had died instantly. His skull was crushed and one leg was broken.

Witness Statement
The police emergency, manned by Fireman Yarwood and William Melvin, was called, and the body was taken to the Stark funeral home.

Pennsylvania officials, investigating, obtained from E. C. Lather, 90 Liberty st., a witness, the statement that he had seen Binder stoop under the gate and go out on the tracks. He did not see Binder killed, Lather stated.

There were reports that a woman was accompanying Binder, but Yarwood and Melvin were unable to find any trace of her though they hunted until midnight. It is believed that if she was with the man she escaped and went on, because her body would have been found had she also been killed.

Binder is survived by his wife in Germany and a son, Michael, of 37 Mount st.

BREAKING JAIL, HE ROBS STORE

Escaped Rogers Prisoner
Gets 25 Pennies And
Ring of Bologna

Robert Dutcher, who was put in the village jail at Rogers Wednesday night on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, broke out of jail shortly before 3 a. m. Thursday and a long wrench in the jail that had been used as a stove poker was later found in the Finch & Huston general store, which was robbed between 3 and 6 a. m. Thursday.

The store was entered through a rear door after a party had been wrecked and all that has so far been missed is 25 pennies, all the cash that was in the counter register and a ring of bologna.

Dutcher got into a fight at a basketball game at Rogers Wednesday night and his arrest followed.

The wrench found in the store has been returned to the Rogers police.

LOWELL SPEAKS, SCOUTS GUESTS

H. Parker Lowell, Akron newspaper man, and former secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, told of his work with the Boy Scouts at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Memorial building Thursday noon.

Members of Kiwanis Troop 1 were guests of the club, and the scouts gave various demonstrations of their work, which Lowell praised. One feature was a dialogue between a scout and a "prospector" for admission to the tenderfoot class.

Fight Films Figure In Big Damage Suit

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Ten Dempsey-Tunney fight films figure in two suits aggregating $50,000, filed in common pleas court here today. The suits were brought by E. J. O'Donnell against the Deshler Hotel company.

O'Donnell alleges he left ten fight films with the hotel as security for a hotel bill, and could not recover the films when he offered to redeem them.

THE BOY SCOUT

This is Boy Scout Week throughout the United States.

Salem Scouts have joined with those of the nation in observance of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting from the outset has been popular. It has been popular not so much because it provides boys with a means of pleasure, but because it has been a tremendous factor in the building of character, manhood, right thinking, good health.

Who is there today who says the American boy is not a better boy because of the Boy Scouts?

There always is pleasure in speaking of the success of scouting in the United States. And it is to be hoped that the year upon which we now are launched will see the organization grow in numbers and in its power for good.

Whenever we see a troop of Boy Scouts on a hike, or assisting at some civic function, or in the presentation of scoutcraft, or an individual Scout assisting some aged man or woman through traffic, or doing any one of hundreds of other things which they are taught, we think of the organization as a whole and of the great good it is accomplishing for growing manhood everywhere.

The men of tomorrow, who are the Boy Scouts of today, will be better for their boyhood association with this organization.

ISOLATION? WHERE?

A writer in a current magazine pictures poor old Europe wishing it could get along in isolation from the United States and having no luck at all about it.

First there are the hordes of tourists, buying laces and knick-knacks and ruining one's favorite restaurants and raising the cost of living by having so much to spend. Then there are others—spreading various international gossips of friendliness. There are unofficial observers at Geneva. There are teachers by the hundreds exchanging chairs between America and Europe. There are researchers in fields of medicine, politics, science, his tory, etc.

It's all very fine, and though much of the travel must be futile, the writer believes that "a considerable residue of enlarged vision and sympathy must remain when the irritations of travel have gone and the reminiscences begin."

The world seems to be getting a little small for isolation.

BEATEN WITH BRAINS

The principal of a fine school for boys, where the scholarship standards are high as well as the athletic prowess, gives one very interesting reason for the prevalent over-emphasis on athletics in schools and colleges.

Fathers, he says, know their own success has been won with brains, yet they would rather see their sons on the football team than winning scholastic honors. Of course, they are proud of intellectual accomplishments, too, but the athletic conquests are more spectacular and furnish more immediate material for fond boasting.

Scholarship still has a little prestige, however, and it is up to the wise and canny educator to develop a balance between athletics and scholarship that wins over fathers and sons alike.

What Others Say

SENSE AND SENTIMENT
In our country a conflict between sense and sentiment is likely to be disastrous to the latter. Often enough, though, it may be proved that there really is no conflict at all. Take, for instance, the Twin elms of South Bloomfield.

South Bloomfield is in Pickaway county on the Scioto trail. The Twin elms were good big trees when the trail was opened in 1863. The trail the primitive dirt road, the improved turnpike, the paved thoroughfare have come one after another and all have respected the rights of the Twin elms. And now the state highway department says the Twin elms must go.

The people of South Bloomfield, all of the 240 of them, respond that the Twin elms must not go. And from Columbus and other points of Central Ohio comes an echoing protest against the destruction of the venerable landmarks.

To be sure the trees are in the middle of the road. The pavement divides to give them a small island sanctuary. But in all the history of the Scioto trail since the first "red devils" began to honk about the country not a single automobilist, not even the woodie night-roving inebriate, has ever bumped into them.

The Scioto trail is old. South Bloomfield is old, but the Twin elms are older. One of the twins is still very healthy and handsome, the other shows signs of deterioration and may soon die a natural death. Sentiment demands that both be spared. Trees in the middle of an important automobile highway are unorthodox, but are they therefore necessarily an abomination? It would appear that in this instance, at least, an exception should be made, and that the automobile ought to savor a little in veneration of the arboreal patriarchs.

State highway commissioners, spare those twins!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

English Birth Rate Lowest During 1927

London, Feb. 16.—The birth-rate for England and Wales in 1927 was the lowest in history excepting the worst of the war years, it is revealed in the official report which has just been issued.

The actual rate per 1,000 of the population was only 16.7, as compared to 17.8 in 1926, and 17.7 in 1925, hitherto the lowest figure recorded. For London alone, the rate per 1,000 was only 16.1.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17.

Victory and defeat every man gains or suffers not at the hands of another but of himself.—Plato.

This day's planetary configurations point to opportunities for great gains and advancement if small anxieties and complications be carefully disposed of. Those in the employment of others are under a good way for seeking preferment or increase of salary, and all may approach superiors or those in authority with confidence of an indulgent hearing and recognition of abilities.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of recognition of abilities, honors and advancement, especially if in employment. There may be some minor anxieties but these may be manipulated to advantage by tact and discretion. A child born on this day should be endowed with talents and capacity to rise to high places in employment or in authority, but it should be careful in handling all papers and writings and as to veracity.

WHY DODGE EFFORTS TO INSURE HEALTH?

By Royal S. Coppeland, M. D.

"It is a little word with a big meaning." So said a small boy to me the other day. We were talking about the strong bodies we might have if we were to do certain things. Then it was he commented in the words I have quoted.

DR. COPPELAND

"If" is indeed a word big with meaning and importance. What wonders we would have if—!

The truth is that the average individual knows more about how to live than he admits even to himself. Certainly he knows more than he admits to his friends.

If this is true, and I believe it is, the average person could have better health and be more useful if he would live up to the knowledge of the things necessary to do in order to have perfect health. In short he would be better off if he did his full duty to himself.

Too much of our time is spent in making excuses. A friend of mine says he never admits or denies anything. I am not quite sure about the morals of this mental attitude, but I declare I would rather put up with the mistakes some of my friends make than to listen to their excuses for what they have done.

If you were to go to bed an hour earlier than you usually do, and make it a practice to get up an hour earlier than you do now, you could spend that hour profitably by exercising in the open air before you sit down to breakfast. Of course you won't do this. Even though you know it is a good thing to do it requires effort, and you are not willing to make the effort. If you would do it your health would be better and your chance of long life would be increased, but that "little word with a big meaning" stands in the way of a sensible undertaking.

If you would eat a little bit less of the things you know are not good for you and a little more of the things that will improve your bodily vigor, you could increase your chance of long life. It requires self-control and sacrifice to do this and you are unwilling to make the sacrifice. The "little word with a big meaning" stands in the way of your welfare.

How easy it is to drift along with the current of life, taking things as they come. We are unwilling to make the effort necessary to breast the current and to insure our landing in a safer harbor. If we were willing to fight against those inclinations which tend in the direction of the cataract of disaster, we would be better off in every respect. But the "little word with the big meaning" interferes.

If you don't do anything else to improve your physical welfare, I beg of you to give regard to the simple rules of hygiene. You need not buy expensive apparatus or visit a gymnasium every day. You need not join an expensive golf club or ride a spirited horse. But if you will cultivate those simple habits which everybody knows are conducive to good health and long life, you will

SLIDING SCALE PROPOSED FOR MINERS' WAGE

Pittsburgh Terminal Coal
Co. Willing to Discuss
New Wage Scale

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10.—The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation, one of the largest bituminous coal mining companies in the western Pennsylvania district, is willing to meet the United Mine Workers of America to discuss a wage scale.

But the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation will not sign the Jacksonville scale agreement, nor will it agree to pay a stipulated amount over a period of years.

This was revealed to International News Service by G. F. Osler, vice president of the coal corporation, in an interview today.

Osler's statement paves the way for a resumption of negotiations provided the United Mine Workers are willing to meet the terms.

The terminal official said his corporation would be glad to confer with the miners on a sliding wage scale, one which would provide for an increase in wages proportionate to any increase in the selling price of coal, or a corresponding decrease, should the price of coal be reduced.

"Several years ago we wanted to put the sliding scale into effect," Osler said. "But we couldn't seem to stir up any enthusiasm for it."

Have Sliding Scale Now

We tried to get John L. Lewis to agree to something on that order at the Miami conference last year, but he said it was the Jacksonville agreement or nothing.

"Since failing to renew the Jacksonville scale, we have put just such a system into effect. Some of our men now are earning as much or more than the Jacksonville scale, others are barely making a living. The sliding scale places the earnings of the miners entirely on his own capacity or inclination."

Osler stated the Pittsburgh Terminal was paying its men slightly more than the 1917 scale at the present time. The basic average was $5.75 a day, he said.

"We place a premium on the work of the skilled laborer," Osler continued. "We believe the skilled workman should be encouraged and for that reason pay him slightly more than the man who handles a shovel. When there is a good demand for coal, such as at present, we pay the loaders a little more. After all they are the ones that do the hardest work."

COURT NEWS

Alimony Modified

There has been another ruling in the divorce case of Georgia V. Vaisley of Wellsville against her husband, Harry H. Paisley, now said to be residing at Midland, Pa. This case has been fought through the courts for over a year, and upon several occasions Paisley has been cited in contempt.

A former alimony decree has been modified, and Paisley has now been ordered to pay his wife $30 per month until the youngest of his children arrives at a legal age.

Paisley has had numerous attorneys to represent him in this case and when the case first went to trial on the divorce petition, the plaintiff obtained a decree. Paisley is employed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad company, and for many years resided at Wellsville.

Restraining Order

A temporary restraining order has been issued by Judge W. P. Loney against Sheriff George Wright from offering for sale an automobile upon which a levy has been made in execution in the case of George Haddgett and Minnie Leischnner against Olive Haddgett. In a recent action the court returned judgment by default against the defendant, and an execution was ordered. The court is now asked by the plaintiff to vacate the default judgment.

Verdict For City

A verdict for the City of East Liverpool has been returned by a jury in common pleas court in the $3,000 personal injury case filed against the corporation by Mabel Brannen. The action was filed May 23, 1927, and had been with a jury for two days. The plaintiff claimed the condition of the pavement caused her to fall and injure herself, and that the City of East Liverpool has shown negligence.

Cases Dismissed

For want of prosecution, the case filed in common pleas court March 5, 1925, by Lucy Nance of Wellsville against the Fidelity-Phoenix Fire Insurance Co., has been dismissed by the court. In this action the plaintiff sought a judgment for $1,200 as a fire loss she sustained and which was covered by a policy with the defendant company. The fire occurred May 4, 1924, but the petition was not filed until almost a year later.

The $10,000 damage action filed against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co. March 18, 1925, by Solomon Katz has been dismissed from the record at the cost of the plaintiff. For want of prosecution, Katz sought damages for injuries to his wife, who also sued the company, but against whom a verdict was recently returned.

Divorce Petitions

During the brief married life of Alice Norton and her husband, Samuel Norton, three just caps and two pairs of women's hose constituted the sole purchases for the wife by the husband, according to a divorce petition filed in common pleas court by Mrs. Norton against her husband. The couple were married Dec. 4,

COMING STARS of the MOVIES

Gwen Lee

GWEN LEE is considered—and justly so—one of the most promising "finds" in a long time. Here is the young lady of the blonde type so preferred by gentlemen, but not the ordinary "baby-faced" type at all.

Green is essentially a character comedienne, or soubrette, if you insist upon the old-fashioned word. Her work in the support of Norma Shearer in "After Midnight" sent Gwen on the elevator of fame. With a minor role, she came pretty near "stealing" the picture away from the clever star.

Although rated as a comedienne, Miss Lee is quite an eye-fall. If you don't believe it, look at her photo!

1925, and when the couple went to live at Rochester, Pa., Mrs. Norton charged that her husband failed to keep up the rent, and then he gave her $2 to return to East Palestine, and since that time he has refused to support or clothe his wife.

Mrs. Norton in addition to a decree of divorce, asks the court to restore her to her maiden name, Alice Maudson.

Through his counsel W. S. Foulks of East Liverpool, Calvin Spann has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against his wife, Lestine Spann, whose whereabouts the plaintiff at this time knows nothing. The couple were married at Steubenville, Jan. 15, 1926, and under the charge of gross neglect of duty, the plaintiff has declared that the defendant has refused to live with him since March 13, 1926.

Salem Case Settled

There has been a settlement out of court at the home of the defendant in the damage action filed in court by Julia Speidel of Salem against the City of Salem. The plaintiff sued for $667.77 following an automobile accident.

Leave to File Answer

Charles Bogatay and others of West Point, defendants in an injunction proceeding filed against them by the Seger Fuel company, also of West Point, has been granted leave to file an answer by March 1.

Bogatay purchased a tract of land from the former Kirk-Dunn Coal company, which interest later disposed of its holding to the Seger Fuel company. Certain rights and privileges were granted the Kirk-Dunn company in the deed, and when the Kirk-Dunn company sold to the Seger Fuel company, the latter assumed that former agreements existing with the Kirk-Dunn company would be agreed to.

Several miners' houses had been erected on the Bogatay property by the Kirk-Dunn company, by agreement, and several months ago the Seger Fuel company houses several of its miners in these houses, to which Bogatay objected, on the ground that the occupants were "imported" men. The Seger Fuel company then obtained a temporary restraining order against Bogatay from interfering with the occupants of the houses they occupied, on the grounds that the deed to the ground purchased by Bogatay gave the company the right to travel over the lands and to the buildings.

Party Defendant

On its own motion, the Salem Chattle Mortgage company has been made a party defendant in the recent suit filed in common pleas court by John Konecheck against Harry Crubaugh, doing business as the Crubaugh-Chevrolet company. In this petition, the plaintiff sought a restraining order against Crubaugh, and also the appointment of a receiver for the defendant.

TRIES TO BREAK TWO AIR MARKS

Capt. Hinchliffe, Famous
British Pilot, to Hop
Off For India

London, Feb. 10.—Piloting an American Sunson-Detroit monoplane, Capt. W. G. R. Hinchliffe, famous British commercial air pilot, will shortly attempt to beat two existing world records.

1.—The non-stop long distance record held by the Americans, Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine.

2.—The sustained endurance record held in Germany. According to present plans, Capt. Hinchliffe will attempt to fly from England to India, continuing towards Burma until his gasoline is exhausted. As now arranged this flight will take place early in the summer, probably in June.

"I shall use an American machine because it is cheaper," Capt. Hinchliffe told International News Service. "During my recent visit to the United States I was favorably impressed by the Sunson-Detroit and am of the opinion that, although cheaper, it is equally as good as the costlier British machines."

Hinchliffe is one of the most experienced and skilled civilian flyers in the world. He has covered more than 9,000 miles in the air since he began flying.

"The necessary preparations in fitting out the machine will require some time," continued Hinchliffe.

NEW ENGLAND'S DOG SLED RACE IS UNDER WAY

North Conway, N. H., Feb. 9. Barkers and cries of the "hokies," cracks of the whip and shouts of the drivers and crews of hundreds of sleds mingled in the crisp mountain air today as eight teams got away in New England's greatest dog sled racing classic.

Tarl Bridges, of The Pas, Manitoba, closely followed by Mrs. E. P. Ricker, Jr., of Poland Spring, Maine, the only woman driver, got away first in the annual point-to-point three day race of the New England sled dog club.

The start was postponed yesterday because of the absence of snow, an unprecedented situation for this time of year in the White mountains. During the night, covering three and five inches fell, covering the roads and making the going excellent.

MYSTERY NOTE DEMANDS $25,000 FROM SURGEON

Sidney, O., Feb. 10. Mystery today surrounded receipt of a black-hand letter by Dr. J. Carrell, wealthy and widely known local veterinarian surgeon.

The elusive written with lead pencil, informed Carrell that, if he "wanted to live," he should place $25,000 in U. S. currency and with no marks on it, under a cement curb near a roadhouse known as the "Last Chance," on the Dixie highway, south of Sidney. The letter decreed that the money should be deposited last night.

Instead of complying with the command, Carrell turned the letter over to local authorities, who it was announced, will give it to federal officials. Post office inspectors are expected to conduct an investigation.

NINE RELIEF CASH MOUNTS: TOTALS $18,000

Columbus, Feb. 10. Cash contributions for the relief of destitute children in Ohio's mining regions totaled about $18,000, it was stated today at the office of Adjutant General Frank Henderson. About $500 was received today.

Approximately 4,000 children were being fed from 63 stations, which were operating under direction of Ohio national guard officials, it was announced.

School teachers in the mining districts it was said, informed O. N. G. officers that the physical condition of the children had improved since the state's relief work began and that the little folk were becoming "better students."

Gloria Gould Will Seek Divorce Again

Paris, Feb. 10. Following a family council by members of the Gould family in Paris, it was learned today that Gloria Gould Bishop, youngest daughter of the late George Jay Gould, will file suit for divorce in the United States.

The husband, Henry A. Bishop, of New York, frustrated the original plan to have the divorce action brought in Paris, by his refusal to come here to make the necessary legal arrangements. It is understood that a judgment settlement already had been made.

FOREIGN TRADE IS EXPECTED TO SET HIGH MARK

1927 Imports Were Lower Than In 1926, With A Gain In Exports

Washington, Feb. 10.—American foreign trade this year is expected by commerce department officials to considerably surpass the total of $9,049,000,000 in 1927. It possibly will reach $10,000,000,000, a record of peace-time years.

Lawrence B. Mann, head of the department statistical division said today that price levels on export and import commodities are unlikely to fall below those of last year and that with the expected volume of quantity increase the valuations will be much higher.

Imports in 1927 were over 5 per cent lower in value than in 1926, despite a small increase in the volume of the trade. The quantity of exports sent abroad was 10 per cent ahead of the preceding year, but the value only one per cent higher.

Reports from Europe, Latin America and other big outlets for surplus American products indicate that these markets are in materially better commercial position than at the beginning of 1927, with greater buying power, and higher standards of living, an almost certain assurance of a greater demand for goods manufactured in this country.

The record foreign loans of 1927, indicating large commercial and industrial developments, are stimulating requirements for a wide range of American articles, from steel and electrical machinery to raw materials. Reports also show that the American producer is paying more attention to the scientific development of foreign markets to take up his surplus should the domestic demand lag.

BELIEVE GIRL'S BODY IN RIVER

Effort to Find Body Is Redoubled; Confessed Slayer Recovers

New Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—Search of the Tuscarawas river for the body of Miss Viola May, 23, was redoubled here today when attorneys for William D. Herron, her brother-in-law and alleged slayer, announced it was their belief that Herron was telling the truth.

Herron is reported to have confessed to Sheriff Land that he choked Miss May Wednesday night during a quarrel, and threw her body into the river at White Bridge when he discovered she was dead.

After the tragedy, Herron told authorities he had been attacked and his sister-in-law kidnapped while he was driving her to her home.

The finding of the girl's undergarments in a gravel pit, Herron explained by saying he had found them in his car after the tragedy. He denies having dismembered her body.

Wire nettings have been spread across the river at two points and expert divers are in Canton. The receding waters of the river it is believed, will aid searches.

Herron is recovering from his attempt to commit suicide. He slashed his throat and wrists with an old safety razor blade in the county jail, early Thursday.

AKIN RETURNS TO BIRTHPLACE AFTER 40 YEARS

After an absence of more than 40 years, Paul M. Akin, secretary-treasurer of the Indianapolis Morris Plan Bank, Indianapolis, Ind., is visiting the place of his birth.

Mr. Akin is visiting his mother, Mrs. Emma V. Akin, and sister, Mrs. C. A. Lot, at their home, Lisbon rd. He attended a convention of the Central States association of Morris Plan Bankers held at Columbus, Monday and Tuesday, and will spend the remainder of this week here, returning to Indianapolis next Monday.

Mr. Akin was born at Leontia, shortly after his birth the family moved to Indianapolis and continued its residence in that city until last June when the mother and sister returned to Salem.

George W. Akin, deceased was the father of Mr. Akin and John Akin, a former Columbiana county farmer, and John McLean, former sheriff of Columbiana county, both deceased, were Mr. Akin's grandfathers.

Miss Remus Visits Father In Prison

Lima, O., Feb. 10.—Romola Remus, daughter of George Remus, wife slayer who is held here in the state prison for the criminal insanity today was enroute to Chicago after visiting her father yesterday.

It was their first meeting since the famous bootleg king was acquitted at Cincinnati on the sale grounds of insanity. Miss Remus told reporters she believed her father had recovered from the nervous strain of the trial.

Pedestrian Killed Crossing Highway

Dixton, Feb. 10. Almost instant death was the fate of Carl Menkel, 25, local carpenter, when hit here today by an auto driven by Rufus Lisle, an insurance agent. Menkel, whose neck was broken, died before he reached a hospital.

The accident occurred in the west end of the city while Menkel enroute to work, tried to cross the highway.

Charge Conspiracy Among Companies to Crush Union Labor

Washington, Feb. 10.—Evidence that a conspiracy exists among the railroads and coal companies to crush union labor will be presented to the senate if an investigation into the mine situation is ordered. Phillip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine workers, told the senate interstate commerce committee today.

Speaking in behalf of the Johnson resolution for an inquiry into conditions among miners and their families in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, Murray said wholesale repudiations of their wage agreements by the coal operators had resulted in the present suffering and misery among the strikers.

DEPUTY WILL INSPECT ELKS LODGE SOON

District Deputy William Cunningham, of Akron, will visit and inspect Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks, in the near future on a date to be set by the lodge. It was announced at the lodge meeting Thursday night.

A class of candidates will be initiated in the presence of the deputy, and past exalted rulers will be present.

The entertainment committee has arranged a dance for Elks and their friends for Friday, Feb. 17. Paul Howell's Playboys will play for the occasion.

More than 15 Salem Elks will pay a return visit to Warren lodge next Wednesday night. Warren has planned an entertainment for the visitors.

Exalted Ruler Paul H. Mead gave a report on his visit to Alliance lodge last Friday night when Deputy Cunningham witnessed degree work and gave an address on the national Elks home at Bedford, Va.

Unfilled Tonnage Of Steel Increases

New York, Feb. 10.—Unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation increased 303,073 tons in January, according to the monthly report of the corporation, issued at noon. Forward orders on the books of the corporation on January 31 aggregated 4,275,947 tons, against 3,972,874 on December 31, 1927 and 3,800,000 tons on January 31, 1927.

Col. Bryant Shoots Self; Body Found

Paris, Feb. 10.—Col. M. C. Bryant of Philadelphia, connected with the Paris branch of Dillon, Read and company, committed suicide in his home early today by shooting himself through the heart with an army pistol. The body was found this morning in Col. Bryant's apartment.

HICKMAN

the bench at 1:59 o'clock. At 2:29 he finished reading his instructions to the jury.

Warns Spectators. He told the jurors that, if they were convinced that Hickman kidnapped and killed Marion Parker while unaware of what he was doing, then the verdict should be "insane." If on the contrary, they believed Hickman was fully cognizant of his acts, then their verdict should be "guilty."

When Judge Trabucco finished speaking, he removed his nose glasses, pointed them at the spectators and uttered a warning against open expression of approval or disapproval with the verdict. Any remarks, the judge said, who disregarded his warning, would be arrested.

The wheels of justice turned swiftly. At 2:22 o'clock, the court swore in the deputy sheriffs and placed the jury in their charge. The jury filed up the stairway, the same stairway which Hickman had used in entering and leaving the court.

Judge Unemotional. Thirty seconds after the jury returned a buzzer stopped the low hum of conversation in the courtroom. Spectators learned that the jurors had asked for a copy of the court's instructions.

At 3:03 o'clock the jurors returned to the courtroom and took their place in the jury box.

In an unemotional tone, contrasting with the repressed excitement of the spectators, the court spoke. "Ladies and gentlemen," have you reached a verdict?

Almost as one voice the jurors answered: "We have, your honor."

The written verdict was passed to the bailiff, who handed it to the judge. The judge read it and handed it to the clerk of the court to be read aloud.

A hushed tenseness overcame the actors and audience of the dramatic court spectacle. Spectators strained forward.

Hickman Unmoved. But the high suspense of the moment seemed not to affect the one chiefly involved. Hickman watched the clerk with an impersonal stare.

Facing the jury box, the clerk said: "and we find the defendant, William Edward Hickman, was sane."

This covered the indictment of kidnapping. Again the verdict was repeated, this time for the killing of Marion Parker.

Alfred Hickman slumped down in his chair, but William Edward Hickman maintained his immobile attitude. His glance swerved from the clerk to the judge, who in routine legal phrases thanked the jurors, dismissed them and pronounced the second case sentence Saturday.

The 195-pound guard tapped the 120-pound defendant on the shoulder, slipped handcuffs about the slender wrists of his charge and led him out of the courtroom.

"What did you think of the verdict?" Hickman was asked.

"The state won—a neck," he grinned.

REPUBLICANS TO DRAFT PROGRAM

Washington, Feb. 10.—The senate, after taking things easy for two months, is going to work at last. A Republican party caucus today instructed the Republican steering committee to hold weekly sessions and map out a legislative program for the upper branch. The committee was told to hear all senators and draft a program of national legislation.

Since congress convened in December, the senate has had no definite program. Its activities being confined to the Smith election case, a few appropriation bills and such measures as individual senators brought before it. Now the Republicans will draft a party program.

TWO WOMEN ON JURY TO HEAR LEWIS TRIAL

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Ten men and two women today were sworn in as jurors to hear the insanity plea of Patrolman C. H. Lewis, who is under a first-degree murder indictment for the killing of Leo Wade, a fellow Columbus patrolman.

The state failed in its effort to keep all World war veterans off the jury when Ivan F. Netterstrom took his seat in the jury box. Lewis is a World war veteran. John M. Harbin, a retired Columbus police lieutenant, is also a member of the jury.

Presley Is Accused Of Neglecting Son

Cleveland, Feb. 10.—Gerald Presley, 27, said to be the first husband of Mrs. Eleanor Presley, who it is alleged, strangled her three-week-old son, Donald, to death, "to save him from a life of poverty," is under arrest here today, charged with neglecting his daughter, Jean, aged 6. The warrant for Presley's arrest was sworn out by Mrs. Presley's mother.

Mrs. Presley is being held in county jail, charged with murder.

Markets

IRREGULAR PRICES

New York, Feb. 10.—Stock prices were irregular, with a tendency toward ease at the opening of the market today. U. S. Steel reacted 1 1/2 points to 145 1/2. American Steel Foundry sold at 60 1/2, down 1, while Bethlehem Steel was 1/2 higher. The metals were irregular, with General Motors down 1/4 at 137 1/2, and Hupp and Packard each up 1/4 at 38 1/2 and 60 respectively. New York Air Brake rose 1/4 to 49 1/2, while International Nickel declined 1/2 to 91 1/2.

Strength and activity of the copper stocks and the specialties featured the early trading today. The $19,000,000 increase in bankers' loans as reported by the Federal Reserve board brought the total of speculative borrowings to a new peak, which was not surprising in view of the sharp advances in some sections of the market.

The metal and steel stocks were under profit taking in this period, steel common starting the day more than a point lower. Expectation of 400,000 ton increase in the unfilled orders of the steel corporation furnished an excellent background for profit taking. Nothing more than the regular $1.25 quarterly dividend on General Motors was expected, and that sold in good volume around 138.

American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennecott, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., and Copper led the advance in the copper, buying of which followed reports of an excellent home and foreign demand for the red metal. United States Steel was inactive, leading the public sale of its monthly tonnage report at noon, but moderate advances were scored by the leading independent steel, under the lead of Crucible and Bethlehem.

Paid in the fast-moving mercantile and specialty stocks withdrew temporarily from the scene, and the trading in Montgomery Ward and Radio was in smaller volume. Interest in the tobacco stocks was stimulated by announcement of Mr. Winston's plan to dissolve Tobacco Products corporation.

Old stocks were again under selling pressure, and a few of the rails went reactionary.

The commodity markets were steady, with narrow fluctuations in grain and cotton. Call money was in supply at 4 1/2 per cent.

OUR READERS

THE WHITE WAY

Editor News:

I am one Salem citizen who does not sanction the sentiments expressed in the editorial of yesterday's News. Nearly every argument it puts forth in favor of a privately owned white way could be advanced in opposing any public institution.

Really, I do not believe the editor wrote that article. He has lived in Salem too long. He could not fail to remember the old lightning and water systems, the sizzling arc lights, half of which even failed to sizzle, and which could only be kept going by some chosen, who loved light better than darkness, providing he could find a pole long enough to tickle the carbon. He also remembers the run-down condition of the old water system, the leaky mains and their stinky ramifications. Remembering these things he knows that the present publically owned light and water systems are far superior to those of other days. Therefore I say, that it is doubtful whether he would go on record as saying that "if anyone in Salem still has faith in municipal ownership, or operation he ought to take another look at our street lighting system and our waterworks."

The only thing that can be said against our light distributing system is that some of the poles have gone bad. But since they have been in constant use for about 15 years, they could with a little care at present, be made to outlast wooden ones whose life is estimated at about 25 years.

And as to the waterworks, we have more wells than ever. True we experience a shortage of water at times, but blame that on God. If He fails to put the water in the ground the city can't pump it out. Of course there remains the prerogative of an engineering feat, but that costs money—something we haven't got.

I know that I am short, and one reason is that I just got through paying my power and light bill for the month of January. If I hit the rest of my neighbors as hard as me, they must do as I did. Grin and bear it. Evidently the editorial was more fortunate in its digging down. Were it forced to go to the bottom perhaps it would not have been so willing to say that the light and power rates are not so high comparatively in Salem with those charged in other Ohio cities. Well, since my domestic bill was $10.95 for the month of January and $10.30 for the previous month, showing that nothing was carried over, all that I can say is: "God pity our neighbors."

Admitting that council ignored several important propositions of the lighting company as the editorial terms them, what of it? There must have been a reason, and well founded at that. At least it doesn't smack of selling out, besides some of our daddies have a pretty good memory.

Although my memory does not serve me as well as it once did, yet it occurs to me that during the time the lighting company was negotiating with us for a franchise there was left the impression that there would be a conduit system installed in the heart of town. Reasonably enough, it was not installed forthwith. Main st. under which the system was to be laid, had gone bad and needed repaving. It would have been folly to tear it up twice, so it was let go till the street was in process of paving. Once the paving had been completed, it was thought a pity to dig up such a nice street, so the conduit was strung overhead on poles.

If I have been misinformed, correct me as well as some others who are of the same opinion, for there is always a probability of error in such things, especially since that opinion was given rise at a time of confusion. During the period right before the franchise was granted, opposing factions were not slow in speaking their minds, so that even the records may have been provoked to stammer.

But since the editorial has nothing to say about the period negotiating for the franchise, I might call attention to the fact that while it was in the act of opposing public ownership, it should have gone on to show the advisability of placing a "To Let" sign on the city building. It had a wonderful opportunity. Its arguments had paved the way for a climax of that kind. It had already proved that a private electric and water concern could serve the city better and cheaper than our public officials, and all that was necessary was one more step. That step would have proved the advisability of farming our city out to some private concern that would furnish a mayor, two directors and a full city council.

Perhaps that wouldn't be so bad after all, for that company might be prevailed upon to charge us a normal (that's a good word, normal) meter rental, and thereby free us of all worry, elections and everything. We would have absolutely nothing to worry about. At the end of the month each citizen would receive a card marked with the amps and kilowatt-hours of mental physical energies furnished by the concern, and all we'd have to do is call at the office and pay. We would even not be bothered with having to hire a meter reader.

NORRIS WARNS SMITH HE WILL BE KICKED OUT

Washington, Feb. 10.—Frank L. Smith of Illinois will meet the same fate he has met on two previous occasions if he attempts to enter the senate on the strength of the new credentials given him by Governor Len Small. It was emphatically stated today by Senator Norris (R., of Nebraska).

"He will be kicked out again, that's all," declared Norris, who led the fight to bar the Illinoisan when he appeared as senator-designate a year ago and again as a senator-elect in December.

MOTHER, HEART SADDENED, WILL JOURNEY HOME

Mrs. Hickman Receiving Many Messages Of Deep Sympathy

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 10 — A frail, gray-haired woman, heart laden with sorrow, began today to prepare for a journey to her home in Kansas City.

She is Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, mother of the "Pox," who was trapped in the coils of the law yesterday by a verdict, proclaiming him guilty of the kidnapping and murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker.

She was not in the little courtroom yesterday, when the clerk read from a slip of paper the words that signify either death on the gallows or life imprisonment for the boy to whom she had given birth some 20 years ago.

Another son, Alfred, older than William, sat in that tense courtroom and listened to the clerk's recital of the jury's decision. It was his sad lot to convey to his anguished mother the news of her son's conviction.

"I shall return at once to Kansas City," Mrs. Hickman said today. Messages of sympathy for the heartbroken mother streamed into the office of Defense Atty. Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon. These were brought to her by Alfred, who has been her constant companion and comforter during the trial. Mrs. Hickman came to Los Angeles to save her son's life. On the witness stand she told of many incidents in her past life in an effort to prove that young Hickman was insane.

AWAITS REPORT ON DRY RAIDERS

Columbus, Feb. 10 — B. P. McDonald, state prohibition commissioner, today was awaiting the report of E. J. Callan, Youngstown, a state dry agent, relative to protests recently lodged with Gov. Vile Donahay which alleged that a half-dozen homes, just outside the jurisdiction of the village officials of McDonald, Trumbull county, were illegally raided on the night of Jan. 25, last, by the mayor and alleged "stool pigeons" of McDonald.

Acting upon instructions from the governor that a thorough probe be made, McDonald designated Callan to make an investigation and report to McDonald.

No further action will be taken by state authorities, it was stated, until Callan submits his report. McDonald indicated that he expected Callan's report by tomorrow.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A continuation of senior speeches furnished the program for the assembly this morning. Martha Bush started with a talk on the "Development of Anaesthetics."

The word anaesthetic comes from a foreign word meaning a "loss of feeling." The credit for the first use of ether as a sleep inducer goes to Jackson and Morton who experimented with it in 1846.

There are several types of anaesthetics. First comes general. Under the influence of this type the patient becomes entirely unconscious. Under local anaesthetics the patient loses the sense of feeling only in the spot where the cut is to be made. Midway between these two is the case where the patient merely becomes insensible to pain. The latter case is not always successful and is seldom used.

Gerardine Clay discussed the life of Marion Talley, opera star! She was born in Missouri of poor parents. She attended grammar and high school and a musical institute. Friends then succeeded in raising $10,000 for her education. Her first tryout with Metropolitan officials was successful. She went to New York and then to Europe to study. At the age of 19 she made her debut in the Metropolitan Opera company. She has made a sensational start and her future is certainly bright.

"Six Best Beloved Characters on the American Stage" was Dorothy Cobb's subject. In recent years the motion picture has supplanted the stage, but we can still find many wonderful actors and fine plays. Some of the best beloved actors, past and present, include Joseph Jefferson, who played "Rip Van Winkle" for 40 years; Maude Adams in "Little Minister"; David Warfield in the "Music Master"; Frank Bacon in "Lightnin'"; E. H. Southern in "Our American Cousin"; and George Arliss in "Old English." All these performers had a winning personality and humor; these factors have endeared them to the hearts of Americans.

John Cosgrove gave a little review on "Transportation in America." At first, travel was done by foot and by canoe. Then came the wagons and, with them roads. Then followed in rapid succession the steamboat, the Erie Canal, the railroad, automobile and finally the airplane. The United States leads in almost every mode of travel with the exception of the airplane. There certainly is a bright outlook for the future.

Walter Coy spoke on the "American Automobile Association." This organization was formed in 1902. It now has 950 clubs and over a million members. The club works for the betterment of roads, elimination of taxes, breaking of foreign monopolies, etc. Its newest creation is the school boy patrol system, a system that is sure to prove a great benefit to every community.

TO BUILD AUTO ROADS ACROSS SAHARA DESERT

Washington, Feb. 10 — Trade routes and automobile highways are going to be constructed across the Sahara desert, dividing the world's most famous desertland into two sections, northern and southern, according to a report from Lewis W. Haskell, United States consul general at Algiers.

Gen. Meynier, of the French forces in Algeria, pointed out that the roads will be in no wise comparable with the automobile highway of Europe, but they may be used by lower powered cars. They will greatly facilitate the work of French administration and the French military command.

Eventually the new system of roadways will link up Algeria and Soudan.

PAN-AMERICAN DEADLOCK SEEN

Havana, Feb. 10. — Operation of the Pan-American union on the basis of the resolution adopted by the third Pan-American conference in 1906 was expected today when the sub-committee reports to the full first commission that it has been unable to reach any agreement for either a convention or a treaty in the reorganization of the union.

The decision to make this report came after the sub-committee had struggled for hours behind closed doors attempting to conciliate the view of Argentina. Dr. Pueryrreton, Argentine delegate, alone held out to the end for a declaration against economic barriers, insisting that the preamble to the project for the reorganization of the union contain a specific statement on this subject.

Another issue, intervention in any form, remained in a state of deadlock today after long deliberations. Mexico, Salvador and Argentina demand that the Pan-American conference make specific declaration against intervention.

SEE EXTREME PENALTY FOR YOUNG SLAYER

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10. — Speculation was rife here today on the sentence which Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco will impose tomorrow morning upon William Edward Hickman, declared by a jury to have been sane when he kidnapped and murdered Marion Parker.

Hickman's arraignment for sentence is scheduled for 9:30 o'clock. On the basis of the jury verdict, one of the two sentences may be pronounced: death by hanging or life imprisonment.

Indications were that the state of California will exact the extreme penalty for Hickman's crime.

Although he would not say specifically what he had in mind, Judge Trabucco indicated, attorneys said, that the maximum sentence would be imposed. "It would not be proper for me to state at this time what will be the sentence," Judge Trabucco said, "but there need be no uneasiness. All the law allows awaits the defendant."

CALL RECRUITS IN NICARAGUA

Native Constabulary Is Being Increased To Relieve Marines

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 10. — The Nicaraguan native constabulary, which is being made into an efficient military police force by officers of the United States marines, will be recruited up to the strength of 2,500 men, it was learned today. Recruits are being sought by recruiting officers, but so stringent are the restrictions that many seeking enlistment are rejected.

Marine officers are hopeful that the full quota of 2,500 men will be obtained and drilled within the next six months. This would relieve the United States occupational forces of a great deal of work and it might be possible to begin to withdraw marines from Nicaragua if it is seen that the constabulary is able to maintain order.

Sympathizers of former President Chamorro are seeking to have the election postponed from October to November unless the three northern provinces (which are strongly Liberal in sentiment) are withdrawn from the balloting. The Chamorroites cite the renewed activity of Gen. Augusto Sandino's rebel forces in the Jinotegamatagalpa areas as an argument in favor of the postponement but from present indications it is unlikely that there will be any delay.

Marines and the constabulary still have more than six months in which to pacify the country, disarm the rebels and prevent the shipment of contraband for use by the insurgents.

WINONA

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church had a meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mary Murphy.

In the afternoon there was a business session and program. Mrs. Bertha Stoudt had charge of the program and the third chapter of the study book, "A Straight Way Toward Tomorrow" was reviewed. A chapter was also reviewed from the book "Ownership."

At a meeting Wednesday of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Sins Megall the morning hours were spent in quilting. The business session in the afternoon was followed by a program. Mrs. Ella Barber had charge of the devotionals.

GREENFORD MAN GIVEN CALL TO MINERVA PULPIT

Minerva, Feb. 10.—By a unanimous vote of the congregation, the Lutheran church has extended a call to Rev. L. M. Riggie, pastor of the Lutheran church at Greenford. Rev. Riggie preached in the church here a few weeks ago and members of the church were enthusiastic in their praise of his manner and address.

The pulpit of the Lutheran church in Minerva has been vacant since last June when Rev. W. C. Larriek, who had been pastor for many years, left to accept the pastorate of the Rockway Lutheran church at Springfield. Rev. Larriek died at his home in Springfield early this winter.

Students from Wittenburg college at Springfield and other pastors have supplied the pulpit, but the call to Rev. Riggie is the first to be extended.

COLUMBIANA

The following program will be given Friday afternoon at the Columbian school auditorium by the Gradatim Literary society: Essay, Pearl Mulch; Valentine novelty, short story, Evelyn Wining; "Meldrammer"; Gradatim Punks, Lola Sewall and Robert Maurer; selection, High school orchestra; sketch, "Bachelors Forever."

The regular meeting of Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion was held Wednesday evening. The legion hall is now available for dances or meetings, the repairs to the building having been completed to the satisfaction of the state inspector. The front rooms of the second floor have been redecorated.

Sorosis Society met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Linda Fisher, Fairfield ave. Mrs. Clarence Shontz gave a reading from the works of Booth Tarkington and Mrs. S. S. Weaver had a paper on "Cuba."

The teachers of the various grades of the Columbian public schools are preparing for an entertainment to be given in the school auditorium March 9. The program will be under the general direction of Mrs. E. F. Miller, music supervisor of the local schools. One of the divisions of the program will be an operetta called "Kay & Gerda" or "The Snow Queen," given by the pupils of the second and third grades. The teachers of these grades are the Misses Mildred Mowen, Sparkie Lautzen, Junier and Margaret Koch, the latter acting as pianist for the operetta.

Mrs. F. J. Hall of Sebring spent Wednesday with her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Riddle, and family, North Main st.

Mrs. B. M. French, Salem, was a Columbian business caller Wednesday.

Mrs. C. B. Clapp is confined to her home on North Elm st., by illness.

Dickinson Bros. are refurnishing the interior of their show windows.

D. Strous of New York City was a local business caller Wednesday.

W. B. Road and Robert Dunbar were in Toledo on business the first of the week.

Miss Helen Coblenz has returned to Oberlin college after a brief visit.

Sore Throat Is Dangerous

Throxine Relieves Quickly

Don't neglect sore throat—it often leads to tonsillitis, scarlet fever or diphtheria. Take Throxine, a famous physician's prescription, which is remarkably successful because it works on a new principle—goes direct to the cause not reached by gargles and patent medicines and brings relief within 15 minutes, or money back. One swallow does the work.

Contains no iron, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe and sure—pleasant to take—much better than gargles. Ask for Throxine, 35c, 60c, and $1.00. At all drug-gists. Adv.

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the Salem City School District of Salem, Ohio, at the office of the clerk, Albert Hayer, in Salem, Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon, city time, February 18, 1928, and opened by the clerk of said board at its first public meeting thereafter, for all labor and material necessary for the purpose of erecting, constructing, equipping and furnishing a new school building on the Reilly Athletic field in said City of Salem, Ohio, according to plans and specifications prepared by the Reilly Company, architect for said board.

Plans and specifications for this work are on file at the office of the clerk of the board above mentioned, and at the office of the architect, The Owsley Company, 10000 of said city, and a copy of the same may be obtained from the architect upon deposit of the customary amount, which deposit will be refunded if the bidder enters into a contract within the time specified in good order prior to February 18, 1928.

Separate proposals will be received on a whole, upon the general contract exclusive of mechanical equipment and upon such mechanical equipment as is required by the architect's plans and specifications.

All proposals shall be made in conformity with the General Code of Ohio, and shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope and addressed to the Board of Education of the Salem City School District, and endorsed "Proposals for the Reilly School Building," on the outside of the envelope.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank and the amount of said certified check shall be equal to at least two per cent (2 per cent) of the total amount of the bid, and such certified check shall be forfeited if the said bidder fails to enter into a contract with the said board and furnish the required bond within ten days after notice of acceptance of his proposal if the award is made to said bidder. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned on demand, and the check of the successful bidder upon the execution of the contract and the furnishing of the required bond. A bond in the full amount of the contract, with satisfactory sureties, will be required for the faithful performance of the work.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids by order of the Board of Education.

2 LISBON TEAMS INVADE SALEM'S COURT TONIGHT

Salem Boys Should Have Little Trouble; Girls
Well Matched

Lisbon High's eng. teams, which have been more or less trampled on in county circles this season, hope to retrieve last season's defeat in engagements here with Salem High.

The Lisbon Boys are smarting under a 48 to 17 pasting received on their home floor last week at the hands of East Liverpool, at present the strutting cock of the walk in the Boys division of the title race.

A team made up partly of veterans and partly of green material could not stop the river city outfit. Tonight, playing on a foreign floor, it is not expected that Lisbon will win in view of the result of the Liverpool game, but the Blue may succeed in doing better against Salem.

At least Coach Blackwell has high hopes.

Forward Welley, Center Bye, and Guards McVeigh and Dickinson, the latter both veterans, are the main cogs in the Blue combination.

The Salem Girls should face the stiffest opposition, Lisbon's sextet defeated Liverpool last week and though that is not particularly a feat to brag about in view of Liverpool's weakness, nevertheless it is a disturbing fact.

Overconfidence in the Salem team has changed this week to a desire to knock the balance of the county schedule for the well known loop. Certainly this spirit will be needed if the county seat aggregation is not to run over the Tinsley team as did East Palestine.

Miss Albright, formerly Girls coach at Lisbon, and now a teacher in Salem High, has been aiding Coach Tinsley this week in preparation for the game. Lisbon, on the other hand, has scouted well the Salem team and a battle royal is anticipated.

The prelim is at 6:30, the Black varsity clashing with the East Liverpool Reserves. Coach Walt Wilflier's team lost to Liverpool earlier in the season at Liverpool.

DAMASCUS TIES LEAD IN LEAGUE

Quakers Stop Salineville
Kiwanians, League
Leaders 51-29

Damascus went into a tie for first place in the county cage league Thursday night when the Quakers, on their home floor, whipped the Salineville Kiwanians, 51 to 29. Salineville previously led the league.

Grice, the leading point maker of the circuit, was held to eight points, but Oesch, Rackenbaugh and Coy took care of the main scoring.

Damascus held a lead of 21 to 7 at half time and took things easy the balance of the game.

PELTZER FACES DODGE TONIGHT

Joie Ray to Try Comeback
In Illinois Athletic Club Events

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Dr. Otto Peltzer, the runner, will fly the colors of Germany tonight in a 1,000 meter race in connection with the Illinois Athletic club's 11th annual handicap track and field meet at the Riding club.

Peltzer, the only European to defeat the great Paavo Nurmi, will encounter Ray Dodge and Ray Conner, of the I. A. C., and Leo Larrievie of the Chicago A. A. in tonight's jog of 1,000 meters.

Among those running under the banner of the I. A. C. is Joie 'Comeback' Ray, a crack sprinter of a few years back. Ray, until restored to good graces of the A. A. U. by the central board last Wednesday, was an outcast. After an absence of two years he attempts to reach the peak again in the two-mile run.

A. A. Stagg, athletic director of the University of Chicago, will referee the entire program of 19 events.

Erect Tower Near Buffalo Bill Grave

Denver, Feb. 10.—An observation tower, 165 feet high, will be an added attraction on Lookout Mountain, near the grave of Buffalo Bill, according to announcement here today.

The tower, equipped with electric elevator, observation rooms and instruments for viewing "Colorado's matchless scenery," will cost approximately $60,000.

The site of the tower is at an elevation of more than 8,000 feet above sea level, and on a clear day it is expected observers can get a glimpse of several states surrounding Colorado on all sides.

SANGOR KAYOES BUD TAYLOR IN SEVENTH ROUND

Joey Now Ready to Meet
Winner of Canzoneri-
Bass Battle

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Joey Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, will be waiting with interest tonight for a flash on the result of the Benny Bass-Tony Canzoneri championship match in New York. Out of that fight, Sangor believes, will come the man he must beat for the featherweight championship of the world.

Sangor today finds himself in the role of "outstanding challenger" by virtue of his sensational victory last night over Bud Taylor, world's bantamweight champion, in the 10-round main event of Jim Mullens' Coliseum show. The Cream City mauler stopped Taylor in the seventh round of one of the greatest fights ever seen in Chicago.

Ten thousand fans, all that could jam their way into the old historic Coliseum, got the thrill of their lives in that dizzy seventh round. It was the first time Taylor was knocked out in his long career. His bantamweight crown was not at stake.

But to say the Hoosier was "knocked out" and not "fouled," only starts an argument. The officials, however, ruled the blow that felled Taylor was "fair," and save for purposes of argument, that decision stands.

Referee Phil Collins declared the blow was fair as he saw it. Edward Kline, one of the judges, said the blow was on the "belt line" th- rough judge E. L. Cook, said his view of the disputed punch was ob- structed.

Up to the sixth round, both men fought in clean open style. They fought hard but Sangor was away ahead on points. The latter out-weighted Taylor by five pounds. Sangor weighing 126 and Taylor 121.

FOUR HOLDOUTS IN GIANT CLUB

New York, Feb. 10.—The New York Giants have received the signed contract of Pitcher Fred Pinsonnault, who won 17 games last season. Eight players are still outside the fold, however. They include Virgil Barnes, Burleigh Grimes, Frank Hogan and George Herper.

The four holdouts of the Yankees are believed to be Waite Hoyt, Tony Lazzeri, Earl Combs and Mike Gazzella. It was announced that the Yanks would take 35 players' worth, of whom 24 will be retained.

30,000 Vaccinated In Jerusalem When Smallpox Appears

Jerusalem, Feb. 10.—Thirty thousand persons in Jerusalem were vaccinated following a smallpox panic when an Italian coming from Damascus was found suffering from the disease contracted in that city.

The scare was heightened by the fact that the patient, who subsequently died, was a pickpocket and that for a number of days he plied his "trade" in different parts of Jerusalem, establishing no one knew how many "vaccinates."

Health authorities estimated that the pickpocket had mingled with thousands of people in the poorer quarters, as well as in those where traffic is heaviest. Special government vaccination centers were established in those quarters. People of Jerusalem of all classes thronged these centers and crowded around private hospitals and doctors. When the panic was at its height it was no uncommon sight to see in the heart of the city, a line of several hundreds, among whom were a great many peasant women in their colorful dresses holding up the arms of their infants to the doctor's needle. In many cases this was the first time Arab women resorted to a doctor or to vaccination.

JOLLY JESTERS "SAX" SEXTET AT THE STATE

The original Six Jolly Jesters, the saxophone and novelty act with the Music Box Revue for two seasons, will appear on the stage of the State tonight and Saturday by special arrangement with Max M. Simons of New York.

Due to a shift in bookings on a large vaudeville circuit, the sextet was able to come here today, and the same act as given in the Music Box is to be given at the State. Manager Rakestraw is paying a high price for this act and believes that it will be one of the hits of the season.

Lew Hlich, versatile dancer and comic, and Stanley Tobiasen, whistling soloist, both will give their interpretations as they did two seasons with the Irving Berlin show. Joe Martin, Lew Heckman, Chris Hansen and Simons comprise the rest of the sextet.

Press notices of the act all over the country are very good, and the sextet, who have been seen in the Music Box, doubtless have heard and seen them. The act recently completed its third engagement at the Grand in Pittsburgh.

IS A HEALTHIER STRONGER GIRL

Because She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The fertile valleys of Oregon help to supply the tables of America. This is possible thru the magic of the humble tin can.

In one of the canning establishments, Julia Schmidt was employed. It was complicated work because she did sealing and other parts of the work. It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl. Often she forced herself to work when she was hardly able to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk. For five years she was in this weakened condition.

She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Miss Schmidt gave it a trial.

"Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes. "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it." Julia Schmidt's address is 113 Willow St., Silverton, Oregon. For sale by all druggists.

was directed by J. C. Blystone. The supporting cast includes Lawrence Gray, Jerry Miley and John J. Clark.

Miss Borden is cast as the daughter of a New York millionaire. She is willful and vicious, paying little heed to her father's admonitions, until John Weston appears upon the scene. Weston (Lawrence Gray) has come to the Wade home to discuss a Canadian business transaction with Angela Wade's father.

Angela, encountering Weston in a near-collision when her car crowds his flivver off the highway, blandly lays the blame on Weston and slides away toward her magnificent estate. Weston, bent upon seeing her father, follows and is amazed to find that this little spit-fire is the daughter of the man he has journeyed to Long Island to see.

In a series of exciting and amusing situations in the Wade home, Weston gives Angela and her apathetic sweetheart (Jerry Miley) a tongue-lashing. Angela, seeking revenge, disguises herself as an air pilot and starts for Canada with Weston. This leads to dramatic episodes which imprison them in the Rockies and bring about a surprising climax when a rescue party invades the mountains.

"THE LAST TRAIL"

Tom Mix and Zane Grey!

The result of this unusual combination is now on view at the Grand "The Last Trail" is Fox Film's version of Mr. Grey's blood-thrilling novel, starring the popular Western star. Judging from the reception accorded it by the first audiences, the film is fine entertainment.

Mix and his almost equally famous steed, Tony, are involved in some of the fastest and most furious action ever recorded by the camera in this whirlwind story of the plains. When the picture opens, Tom is cast as an Army scout in the Dakotas during the last Sioux Indian uprising. Later, he is pictured as the foe of a gang of desperadoes who specialize in looting stages.

Tom Dane (Mix) gets into all sorts of trouble with the villain Kurt Morley, played by William Davidson. A stage coach race, in which the two participate, is thrilling in the extreme.

Carmelita Geraghty, Jerry the Giant and others are seen in support of the star.

Polish Gambler Who Lost Clothing At Poker Is Arrested

Warsaw, Feb. 10.—Stanislaus Chocimowski, young Polish clerk, beat the world's gambling record when at a wild poker party, he offered at stakes his overcoat, jacket, trousers and finally his shirt without being able to turn the tide of bad luck that had befallen him.

Stripped to Adam's costume Stanislaus hurried out into the cold snowy night to get dressed at home, rejoin the party and try his luck again.

However, some sturdy policeman did not see the joke and arrested Stanislaus on the charge of "gross offense to the public," for which he will be tried soon.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Knives are as important to the cook as is the hammer to the carpenter. A poor knife is an inconvenient tool. In buying there are certain rules that should be well considered if we want to buy an efficient, lasting, sharp and satisfactory tool.

The square-handled knives with several rivets in them have many bad points. They are hard to hold, the blades do not taper sufficiently to balance their bite, and the handles loosen quickly in and out of dishwasher. There is one newer type, in which the blade is welded into the handle. That is a little better in its wearing though it is still in an awkward shape to hold. The best of this sort of knife for hard and lasting wear is the one with a lightweight single piece handle that has been rubberized. A well-balanced knife must taper from the base of the handle to its tip, in order to free itself when cutting, or slicing a large piece of meat. A flat-bladed knife will hold its edge the best. Great care must be exercised in sharpening knives. They should be done at home on a good sharpener. There are several that are well recommended.

The knives should be sharpened and polished after each use before being put away, and never be used for any other work than cutting foods. The knives with scalloped edges for cutting bread and cake are self-sharpeners. Knives of stainless steel are a boon to the housewife, for no acids stain or soil them, but they do not hold the wedge for hard usage like the plain old-fashioned steel knife.

A knife to use for carving hot meats must have a firm, rather stiff blade, with curved point. For cold meat slicing with a flexible knife is best, one that has a long blade rather narrow and slanting on the end. In carving fowl, wing shears are not only helpful to the carver, but also save the knives. Cutting around joints and sinews dulls the edge of freshly sharpened knives.

Choppers and cutters of various kinds have their places in the modern kitchen and are considered great labor savers. One of the newer ones is a vegetable chopper, doing the work coarsely or finely, according to the need and is easily regulated to do so. Like other choppers, it screws to the end or side of the table.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Feb. 10.—Looking ahead for hints as to what the smart women will wear this spring only a question of a short week or two now. Within a very short space of time, the couturiers in Paris will have revealed all of their spring secrets.

Pastel colors, 'tis whispered, will again be fashionable — tender greens, blues, rose-pinks, beige, ivory-white, tan, sand, natural tawny and all the dust-proof shades. Navy-blue, figured with color, or plain and used with a material of a different tone, will be much worn in the spring. Some red with a different color to trim it is promised. Black and cold greys are less frequent. There is a distinct tendency to brighter dress for the fine days which are to come.

The cubist movement in art has had its influence on dress. There are materials with cubist patterns and dressmakers are fitting cubes of material into a hip yoke, a belt, a bodice front, or make groups of tucks and gathers in the shape of cubes. The ends of draperies have cube-shaped decorations. Bands of materials applied as stripes are broken and cut by cube insertions. No trimming goes all the way around, all down or all across frock or coat. There is always an unexpected break, curve loop or doubling back.

To make straight lines crooked, to scallop hems, cut flounces into points, break an all-over design into a material by incrustations and embroidery—in short to do the most unexpected is the most fashionable these days. New spring materials are very much like the old ones, unexpectedly worked on the surface to look like new. The new styles are not very different from the old but they have new turns and touches. A shoulder-yoke is rounded on one shoulder and pointed on the other; a hip yoke is straightly tucked on one hip and fitted with groups of tucks in trimmings or squares on the other. Trimmings are all neat and symmetrical but set together in sections at different angles and in groups to look very fresh and new.

STARK ELECTRIC MAKES PLANS TO EXTEND SERVICE

Three New Interurbans
Ordered; Improvements
To Cost $70,000

Improvements amounting to $70,000 are to be made on the Stark Electric railroad between Alliance and Canton to permit the adoption of 15-minute service between Canton and Louisville about June 1.

Orders have already been placed for equipment and some of the contracts for the work signed according to E. W. Sweeney, general manager of the Stark Electric.

Three new one-man interurbans, costing $15,000 each have been ordered from the Cincinnati Car company. These cars will be the same as those now operating between Canton and Salem.

Three new sidings between Canton and Louisville, and a loop at Louisville station are to be constructed. This work is estimated at $10,000.

Between Canton and Alliance, an automatic block signal system is to be installed to eliminate present delays. Estimate for this is $15,000.

According to present plans, 15-minute service will be adopted about June 1. This service will be from 6 in the morning until 11 at night.

Cars leaving Canton on the hour and half-hour will run through to Salem. Those leaving on the quarter hour will go to Louisville. There will be no increase in fares.

Construction of the siding and loop at Louisville will eliminate double-heading of trains which is considered very expensive.

The improvements are also being made to handle increased freight service if the Ohio Public Utilities commission at Columbus permits the Northern Ohio Power company to abandon its Canton to Akron line. Petition for this is said to be pending at Columbus.

According to plans, the Northern Ohio freight trains, numbering about five a day, will be routed from Canton to Alliance over the Stark Electric, make a left turn at Arch and Main and leave for Ravenna over the N. O. P. tracks.

Most of these trains operate at night. The automatic signal system will aid in preventing delays of these trains as well as passenger interurbans.

Northern Ohio officials, if permitted to abandon the Canton-Akron line, are planning to continue passenger service between these two cities with buses.

Application of the Stark Electric company for permission to retire some of its matured bonds has been filed with the Public Utilities commission at Columbus. The bonds are to be retired with proceeds received from a recent bond issue authorized by the state board.

DAMASCUS

The Women's Bible class of the M. E. church entertained their husbands at the church Wednesday evening with about 40 present. The entertainment was a McGuffey last day of school with Miss Mary Quinn the very efficient teacher. Classes were held in reading and spelling, and a program of solos, duets and readings was given. Also a debate, resolved that fire is more necessary than water. A school lunch was taken in dinner buckets and baskets. The teacher gave each one a Valentine. A hilarious time was enjoyed by all.

The young people of the Friend's church were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Steer, about 40 being present. The evening was spent with games and music and a nice lunch was served.

Mrs. Ida Ladd is ill of tonsillitis. Miss Ethel Ladd was absent from school Thursday on account of her mother's illness. Mrs. H. O. Stanley substituted for her.

Mrs. Addie Gilbert of Salem is spending a few days with Mrs. J. B. Pearce.

The Friendship Fancy Work club was entertained by Mrs. Charles Cyle Wednesday to a one o'clock luncheon. The afternoon was spent with fancy work and a social time. Nearly all the members were present and Mrs. Emil Stanley was an invited guest.

The Sabbath School class of the M. E. church taught by Mrs. J. H. Cameron were entertained at the home of Miss Pearl Yates Tuesday evening to a Valentine party. Games and a social time were enjoyed and Mrs. Yates served a fine lunch.

Several from here attended the district meeting of I. O. O. F. at Sebring Tuesday evening.

Several people here have enjoyed hearing the devotionals by Rev. Stanley Smith at the Y. M. C. A. Youngstown, being broadcast over the radio from WKBN this week. He was a pastor of the M. E. church here several years ago and is now pastor at Browns Memorial.

Don't Crowd, Girls! Here's Perfect Man!

WILLIAM EVERETT DERRYBERRY
(International Illustrated News)

ATTENTION, GIRLS! If you're looking for the perfect man during leap years, you don't have to go any further than William Everett Derryberry, star athlete and student of the University of Tennessee.

"A man whose like we have never seen before," was the version of the judges in selecting Derryberry over 15 other candidates to receive the state's Rhodes Scholarship.

Here's why:—

1. He was a star halfback at the university for three years;
2. All his grades have been "A";
3. He's the best student Tennessee ever had;
4. He swims, plays baseball, basketball and golf far above the average;
5. He sings, plays in the band, directs a church choir and is a member of the Knoxville Y. M. C. A. cabinet.

Upon finishing his work at Oxford, Derryberry intends to become a professor of English.

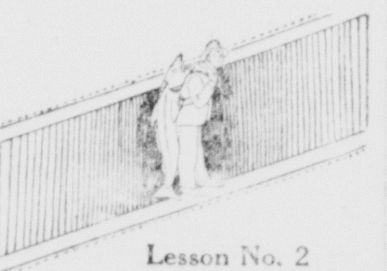

Roosters Shall Not Crow At Night, Is Paris Court Edict

Paris, Feb. 10.—Roosters shall not crow at night. So decides Justice of the Peace Timothee of Marly le Roi, village on the banks of the Seine near Paris, in the most curious case ever presented to French courts for settlement.

Paul Gruyer, an author, now engaged in translating the works of Jack London, filed suit against his neighbor, M. Arnaudin, a chicken fancier, for $40 damages because M. Arnaudin's cocks crowed so strenuously and so continually M. Gruyer was not able to work days or sleep nights.

Justice Timothee awarded M. Gruyer one franc damages, ruling that the roosters should be allowed to crow to their hearts' content during the day but that the author was entitled to complete quiet at night.

The learned justice of the peace suggested that they be creped up in pens so low that they could not stretch their necks. The justice's recipe is being tested.

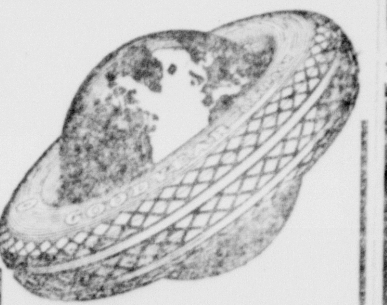

Lesson No. 2

Question: Why do underweight children need and realize so much benefit from emulsified cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because it provides a vitamin-rich food that nourishes efficiently and helps thin children put on weight. It's known world-wide as

Child Health Improves Under Aridity; Benefits Lost Upon Parents, Says Health Expert

Washington, Feb. 10.—The hand that rocks the cradle grows firmer under prohibition and child health improves annually under constitutional aridity, but the benefits are entirely lost upon the fathers and brothers of the country.

These are the conclusions drawn today by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, a fellow of the American Public Health association, from a five-year study of the influence of prohibition on public health. His analysis of mortality statistics between 1900 and 1923 have been made public.

"The prohibition period," Dublin found, "is characterized by sharply declining mortality rates among children and adolescents of both sexes, and this decline is characteristic of a number of additional age periods among women."

Better homes, more healthful food, greater freedom for relaxation and recreation, the survey concluded, have been reflected in the better health of the stay-at-homes. But—

"The improvement is retarded among young male adults and disappeared altogether during the middle years of life in that sex."

"The picture we have found to exist in the mortality of adult men is entirely consistent with the observations, universally confirmed, of a continued widespread indulgence in alcoholic beverages by men."

No Advantage To Men
"Prohibition has not been particularly effective in that sex—and especially has this been true in the cities, and, more particularly, in the eastern states."

"If the saloon has gone and the great body of men no longer spend a large part of their wages on liquor, it is only too clear that what they do drink now is of such deleterious character as to result in no advantage to their health."

"The quality of liquor used throughout the country is sufficiently bad to make up for the smaller quantity consumed."

Order of the Road Is Drivers Group

London, Feb. 10.—A new "round table" and Knightly Order for motorists, which will be known as "The Order of the Road," has been organized here, with the object of encouraging skillful driving and making the roads of the country safer for all users.

The qualifications are that no driver can become a member of the order unless he can produce evidence which will satisfy the executive committee that he has driven a motor-car for at least ten thousand miles.

All members of the Order will be identified by an appropriate badge. They pledge themselves to promise that their first object will always be consideration for all drivers, cyclists, pedestrians and other road users whenever he is driving on a public highway.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN AND CONSTIPATION

Thousands of people eat bran regularly for the healthful roughage it provides. It is a splendid practice. But be sure you are really getting off the roughage you need when you eat bran. Doctors say it takes 100% bran to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only accomplish part-way results. That is why they fail!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krombled. Just two tablespoonsful daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

You'll like the flavor and crispness of ALL-BRAN. Serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Mix with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Trying New Serve

Betty Nuthall, England's Ingenue sensation of the tennis courts, is here shown at her home in Surrey practicing the overhand serve in preparation for a campaign in several tournaments on the Riviera.

NEW ROUTE FOR KENSINGTON RD.

At a joint conference between the commissioners of Columbiana and Carroll county, a new route for an improved highway between Summitville and Kensington was discussed. At a meeting of the Columbiana county commissioners next Tuesday, further consideration will be given this route, while the Carroll commissioners will discuss the problem of finances at their meeting.

Three routes for this new road have been suggested, but Carroll county desires to have the new road pass through the northeast part of that county, in order that it will have a direct outlet to Millport, and also to the Lincoln Highway at Kensington.

Commissioners of both counties will, it is said, petition the State Highway department to designate the proposed route as an inter-county highway, and when this is done, then it will be possible for the state to share in the cost of new construction.

Should this new route be adopted it will extend directly south from Millport into Carroll county, and then into Columbiana county and connect with the recently paved road at Kensington. As soon as the route is designated, County Surveyor Lloyd Kirk will order a crew out to survey and work up plans, so that some construction work can be done this year.

Dentists Exhibit Jaw of General: Twice Usual Size

Chicago, Feb. 10.—A model of General Winfield Scott's jaw, the largest known jaw in the world, was placed upon exhibit here at the Chicago Dental Society convention.

The jaw measured slightly more than four inches in diameter or about twice the size of the average jaw.

"The hero of Chapultepec," explained Dr. Ernest E. Dalton, who constructed the model, "had a massive and impressive face. It was the face of a true conqueror, its wide and heavy jaw bearing evidence to the iron determination of the warrior."

"During his lifetime he was the marvel of contemporary dentists." General Scott not only figured in the war of 1812 and in the Mexican war in which he dictated the peace terms following the capture of Mexico City, but he was commander-in-chief of union forces in the Civil war, retaining that post until he retired because of advanced age.

The model was made from a cast taken at the time of General Scott's death.

Look Out For Danger In Placing Radio Aerials

Due to the rapid increase in the number of radio receiving sets installed in and about this city, it has become necessary for us to sound again a in the installation of outside aerials. Death, serious injury or destruction of property may be avoided by seeing that YOUR aerial is properly constructed.

Never string aerials over, under, or close to any wires. They may come in contact with highly charged wires, resulting in death, injury or fire.

Do not attach aerials to poles, towers or other supports carrying wires of any sort. It is DANGEROUS.

Always attach aerials to substantial supports and remember it is quite practical to operate most receiving sets with indoor aerial.

Parents are especially requested to co-operate in carrying out these safety suggestions.

THOMAS KNAUF DIES SUDDENLY

Death Following Evening Meal Comes Same Day That Sister Dies

Funeral service for Thomas Leonard Knauf, 64, former postmaster of Calla, who died suddenly of heart trouble at 7 p. m. Wednesday at his home south of Canfield on the Canfield-Columbiana rd., will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the home; interment in Canfield cemetery.

Mr. Knauf had not been well and after eating his supper Wednesday evening he lay down. When his daughter, Mrs. Hazel Kendig, of Montana, who is home on a visit, went to the room, she found he was dead.

Mr. Knauf, who had spent his life in the vicinity of Canfield, was widely known. For several years he was postmaster at Calla. He was a member of the Evangelical church, Calla. For a number of years he was a trustee of Green township, Mahoning county, and for some years served on the board of the Mahoning County Agricultural society. He was a farmer by vocation.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Kendig, Miss Ruby Knauf, at home and Roy Knauf of Pontiac, Mich., and these brothers and sisters, H. W. H. A. and Arthur Knauf, Mrs. W. L. Cook, Mrs. A. T. Hendricks and Mrs. R. L. Schurmerberger, all living in the vicinity of Calla.

His sister, Mrs. Frank Rogers, of Calla, died Wednesday morning and in her death the family tie was broken for the first time. Funeral for Mrs. Rogers will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

Harvard Installing Radio Apparatus to Measure Sun Spots

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 10.—A specially constructed radio receiving apparatus is being installed at the Harvard astronomical laboratory for the purpose of measuring the amount of influence that sunspots have on the intensity of radio reception. It is announced by Professor H. T. Stetson of the Harvard University faculty.

The machine, invented by Dr. G.

W. Pickard, electrical engineer, has been operating in his private laboratories, but is being transferred to the astronomical laboratory because of more advantageous location and the recent study that is being made there of the sunspot cycle, a phenomenon which is expected to reach its peak in size and number during February.

In addition to recording the variations effected in radio reception during a sunspot cycle, the new apparatus will assist the laboratory in keeping a record of the sunspot observations. And in connection with both studies, a specially designed photographic apparatus constructed at the laboratory will be used to locate the position and size of the spots.

ONLY WAY TO END INDIGESTION

Remove the Cause and You Remove the Pain

Nine-tenths of digestive troubles are caused by food fermentation and excess acid in the stomach, and it is only by ending these conditions that permanent relief can be hoped for.

The quickest, safest, and surest way to do this is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or whenever pain is felt. This not only stops fermentation and neutralizes excess acid, but exerts a soothing, healing and strengthening influence on the weakened stomach, and induces normal healthy digestion.

That is why millions everywhere recommend "Pape's Diapepsin." Follow their sound advice—get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" from your druggist at once, and insure stomach health, with the fear of indigestion banished forever.

TWO DEPUTIES AND PRISONERS MISSING 3 DAYS

Guards Overpowered and Perhaps Killed, Authorities Believe

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Search for two Lafayette, Ind., deputy sheriffs and their two prisoners, who have been missing since Tuesday, centered in Chicago today with the finding of a pair of mutilated handcuffs.

The handcuffs, which had been filed open, were picked up in South Chicago, and led authorities to believe the prisoners had eluded their guards, perhaps killing them.

The missing deputies are John P. Greve and Wallace McClure. They left Lafayette early Tuesday in an automobile with two prisoners, Sam Baxter and John Burns, both of whom had been sentenced for robbery to the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind.

A score of citizen posse, state highway police and deputy sheriffs, recruited in Indiana, have been scouring the northwestern section of the state since the quartet failed to arrive at Pendleton.

Authorities fear the two prisoners caught the guards unaware, overpowered them, perhaps killed them and hid their bodies. Chicago police believe the prisoners may have sought refuge with friends here.

HOMEWORTH

Mrs. Haskins of Youngstown spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Albert Yennie.

Mrs. Harold Geiselman of Alliance met with a painful injury to her hand by being caught in an electric wringer. Mrs. Geiselman was formerly Miss Helen Riden of Homeworth.

Mrs. Eunice Hoffman spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Shidler of Freeburg.

Mrs. Nancy Hoffman remains very ill.

Dr. Floyd B. Stamp of Alliance made a professional call to Homeworth Monday.

Entertains Club Members

Mrs. Ruth Mangus entertained members of the Tona Wanda club at her home south of Homeworth Thursday. The meeting was opened by devotionals by the president. New officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Ruth Mangus; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lily Lang. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. Martha Rehm and Mrs. Martha Cullison. Plans were made for a casserole supper for members and their families February 18, at the home of Mrs. Rehm. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

A number of relatives from this place attended the funeral of Emanuel Fifer, 60, at Ravenna. He was a former resident of Homeworth and is survived by his widow, who was Miss Frances Yeagley, daughter of the late Jerry Yeagley, and six children.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaffer and family who moved to Michigan some months ago are returning to Homeworth to reside.

Miss Laverne Hahn, a nurse in training in the Alliance City hospital visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hahn.

Mrs. Olive Sides of Alliance was the guest of Homeworth relatives last week.

Word has been received here of the death of William L. Walters, 74, at his home in Walkerton, Ind. He was born near Bayard, Sept. 16, 1854. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Saloma Walter, two sons, Lewis of Michigan and Ray at home, and four sisters, Mrs. Sarah Jones of Canton, Mrs. Susan Little of Minerva, Mrs. Margaret Samor of Bayard, Mrs. Maria Hoffman of Homeworth and one brother, J. B. Walter, of Bayard.

ARE YOU a TOXIC

Sick Headaches

Those miserable sick headaches, those mysterious dizzy and fainting spells are a grave symptom. Usually they indicate a poisoned condition of the stomach that may end in high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and heart failure. This toxic condition is the result of our modern habits of life which put too great a burden upon the vital organs, especially the liver, which then becomes sluggish and fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. It is generally recognized that the liver occasionally needs a little help. There is nothing better for this, as medical men know, than a little ox gall. Ox gall has been found to be a great natural stimulant for the liver, restoring it to full activity. The genuine, pure ox gall is to be had, dainty and tasteless, in the form of Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents 10 drops of pure ox gall and costs less than 2c at good druggists. To be sure of getting the genuine, look for the name Dioxol and picture of ox's head on the package.

DEMOCRATS' DOVE OF PEACE FLIES

Ban Against Cards, Dancing At Junior-Senior Prom Has Aroused Pupils In Sebring

Sebring, Feb. 10.—Students battling for modern day party entertainment and opposed by school officials who fear public criticism are to desert McKinley High school next May for the annual Junior-Senior prom.

With school board members opposing the request to permit dancing and card playing in the McKinley High school auditorium, members of the junior class are preparing to entertain the seniors at the American Legion home.

When Victor Blumenstiel, president, and Doris Pidgeon, secretary of the junior class appeared before the school board and asked permission to arrange a dancing program, with an additional diversion of cards for the affair to be held in the school building, it precipitated a two-hour battle among members of the school board.

Discussing the question pro and con, and delving into every angle of the request, school officials finally refused permission, fearing public criticism.

"There is only one school in Mahoning county outside of Youngstown which permits dancing," J. E.

ciala knew a dance was planned, him into a dance hall without permission. This year, not wishing to cause any trouble with school officials, the two junior class executives carried their request to the school board to secure proper permission, if possible, before arranging for the event.

WILD, WOOLLY WEST GOING OUT OF STYLE

Denver, Feb. 10.—Step by step the colorful "wild and woolly west" is disappearing—giving way to the modernism of civilization and progress.

The west, with its bucking bronchos, wild horses, steer roping, long horned cattle, eight gallon hats and yipping cowboys will soon be only a memory.

This is at least indicated by action recently taken by the Colorado Bureau for Child and Animal Protection, in seeking legal advice on rodeo entertainments.

In a request to Atty. Gen. William L. Boatright for an opinion on the legality of rodeos and roundups, the bureau observed that "rodeo entertainment features have never been actually practiced in ranch life but were merely diversions of the idle rich."

In his opinion, Atty. Gen. Boatright declared that not only performers in animal endurance contests or other asserted "inhuman" stunts enacted for the purpose of entertainment were subject to criminal action, but that all persons connected in any capacity with such a show were guilty under the Colorado law.

"Any person or accessory guilty of harassing, tormenting, injuring or subjecting an animal to cruel practices," the opinion said, "is a lawbreaker."

German Chemists To Enter Combine with U. S. For New Gases

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The formation of a German-American pool for the production of nitrogen based on the recently discovered Haber-Bosch process is said to be main object of a trip to the United States by Bosch scheduled to take place in spring.

Bosch represents the biggest German chemical concern, the "I. G. Farbenindustrie." He goes to America to complete negotiations between the "Farbenindustrie" and the American Dupont trust, which have been going on for some time.

with the purpose of practical exploitation of the Haber-Bosch process for the production of nitrogen. The negotiations are said to have been deadlocked over the question of the allotment of shares to the I. G. Farbenindustrie, if it came to the foundation of a new company. The Dupont trust was to get the majority of the shares but obviously the I. G. Farbenindustrie wants the chance.

ASPIRIN

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in a Bayer Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart
